192 0192 incorrect pages found in sitemap.xml

About this issue: A sitemap.xml file makes it easier for crawlers to discover the pages on your website. Only good pages intended for your visitors should be included in your sitemap.xml file.

This error is triggered if your sitemap.xml contains URLs that:

1. lead to webpages with the same content.
 2. redirect to a different webpage.
 3. return non-200 status code.
- Populating your file with such URLs will confuse search engines, cause unnecessary crawling or may even result in your sitemap being rejected.

How to fix: Review your sitemap.xml for any redirected, non-canonical or non-200 URLs. Provide the final destination URLs that are canonical and return a 200 status code.

320 ⁰

192 pages have low text-HTML ratio

About this issue: Your text to HTML ratio indicates the amount of actual text you have on your webpage compared to the amount of code. This issue is triggered when your text to HTML is 10% or less. Search engines have begun focusing on pages that contain more content.

That's why a higher text to HTML ratio means your page has a better chance of getting a good position in search results. Less code increases your page's load speed and also helps your rankings. It also helps search engine robots crawl your website faster.

How to fix: Split your webpage's text content and code into separate files and compare their size. If the size of your code file exceeds the size of the text file, review your page's HTML code and consider optimizing its structure and removing embedded scripts and styles.

192 ⁰

77 pages don't have meta descriptions

About this issue: Though meta descriptions don't have a direct influence on rankings, they are used by search engines to display your page's description in search results. A good description helps users know what your page is about and encourages them to click on it. If your page's meta description tag is missing, search engines will usually display its first sentence, which may be irrelevant and unappealing to users.

For more information, please see these article: Create good titles and snippets in Search Results: <https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/35624>. How to fix: In order to gain a higher click-through rate, you should ensure that all of your webpages have meta descriptions that contain relevant keywords.

77 ⁰

27 pages have too much text within the title tags

About this issue: Most search engines truncate titles containing more than 70 characters. Incomplete and shortened titles look unappealing to users and won't entice them to click on your page. For more information, please see this Google article: <https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/35624>.

How to fix: Try to rewrite your page titles to be 70 characters or less.

27 ⁰

23 pages have duplicate H1 and title tags

About this issue: It is a bad idea to duplicate your title tag content in your first-level header. If your page's <title> and <h1> tags match, the latter may appear over-optimized to search engines. Also, using the same content in titles and headers means a lost opportunity to incorporate other relevant keywords for your page.

For more information, please see this Google article: <https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/35624>. How to fix: Try to create different content for your <title> and <h1> tags.

23 ⁰

1 page doesn't have an h1 heading

About this issue: While less important than <title> tags, h1 headings still help define your page's topic for search engines and users. If an <h1> tag is empty or missing, search engines may place your page lower than they would otherwise. Besides, a lack of an <h1> tag breaks your page's heading hierarchy, which is not SEO friendly.

How to fix: Provide a concise, relevant h1 heading for each of your page.

78⁰37 pages have only one incoming internal link

About this issue: Having very few incoming internal links means very few visits, or even none, and fewer chances of placing in search results. It is a good practice to add more incoming internal links to pages with useful content. That way, you can rest assured that users and search engines will never miss them.

How to fix: Add more incoming internal links to pages with important content.

37⁰30 links on this page have no anchor text

About this issue: This issue is triggered if a link (either external or internal) on your website has an empty or naked anchor (i.e., anchor that uses a raw URL), or anchor text only contains symbols. Although a missing anchor doesn't prevent users and crawlers from following a link, it makes it difficult to understand what the page you're linking to is about. Also, Google considers anchor text when indexing a page.

So, a missing anchor represents a lost opportunity to optimize the performance of the linked-to page in search results. How to fix: Use anchor text for your links where it is necessary. The link text must give users and search engines at least a basic idea of what the target page is about.

Also, use short but descriptive text. For more information, please see the "Use link wisely" section in Google's SEO Starter Guide

https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/7451184?hl=en&ref_topic=9460495&authuser=0

30⁰9 links on this page have non-descriptive anchor text

About this issue: This issue is triggered if a non-descriptive anchor text is used for a link (either internal or external). An anchor is considered to be non-descriptive if it doesn't give any idea of what the linked-to page is about, for example, "click here", "right here", etc. This type of anchor provides little value to users and search engines as it doesn't provide any information about the target page.

Also, such anchors will offer little in terms of the target page's ability to be indexed by search engines, and as a result, rank for relevant search requests. For more information on the criteria used to trigger this check, refer to kb article title. How to fix: To let users and search engines understand the meaning of the linked-to page, use a succinct anchor text that describes the page's content.

For best practices on how to optimize your anchor text, refer to the "Write good link text" section in Google's Search Engine Optimization (SEO) Starter Guide

https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/7451184?hl=en&ref_topic=9460495&authuser=0

9⁰1 outgoing external link contains a nofollow attribute

About this issue: A nofollow attribute is an element in an  tag that tells crawlers not to follow the link. "Nofollow" links don't pass any link juice or anchor texts to referred webpages. The unintentional use of nofollow attributes may have a negative impact on the crawling process and your rankings.

How to fix: Make sure you haven't used nofollow attributes by mistake. Remove them from  tags, if needed.

Low text to HTML ratio

i About this issue: Your text to HTML ratio indicates the amount of actual text you have on your webpage compared to the amount of code. This issue is triggered when your text to HTML is 10% or less. Search engines have begun focusing on pages that contain more content. That's why a higher text to HTML ratio means your page has a better chance of getting a good position in search results. Less code increases your page's load speed and also helps your rankings. It also helps search engine robots crawl your website faster. How to fix: Split your webpage's text content and code into separate files and compare their size. If the size of your code file exceeds the size of the text file, review your page's HTML code and consider optimizing its structure and removing embedded scripts and styles.

Missing meta description

About this issue: Though meta descriptions don't have a direct influence on rankings, they are used by search engines to display your page's description in search results. A good description helps users know what your page is about and encourages them to click on it. If your page's meta description tag is missing, search engines will usually display its first sentence, which may be irrelevant and unappealing to users. For more information, please see these article: Create good titles and snippets in Search Results: <https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/35624>. How to fix: In order to gain a higher click-through rate, you should ensure that all of your webpages have meta descriptions that contain relevant keywords.

Duplicate content in h1 and title

- i About this issue: It is a bad idea to duplicate your title tag content in your first-level header. If your page's <title> and <h1> tags match, the latter may appear over-optimized to search engines. Also, using the same content in titles and headers means a lost opportunity to incorporate other relevant keywords for your page. For more information, please see this Google article: <https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/35624>. How to fix: Try to create different content for your <title> and <h1> tags.

Missing h1

- i About this issue: While less important than <title> tags, h1 headings still help define your page's topic for search engines and users. If an <h1> tag is empty or missing, search engines may place your page lower than they would otherwise. Besides, a lack of an <h1> tag breaks your page's heading hierarchy, which is not SEO friendly. How to fix: Provide a concise, relevant h1 heading for each of your page.

Pages with only one internal link

i About this issue: Having very few incoming internal links means very few visits, or even none, and fewer chances of placing in search results. It is a good practice to add more incoming internal links to pages with useful content. That way, you can rest assured that users and search engines will never miss them. How to fix: Add more incoming internal links to pages with important content.

Links with no anchor text

- i About this issue: This issue is triggered if a link (either external or internal) on your website has an empty or naked anchor (i.e., anchor that uses a raw URL), or anchor text only contains symbols. Although a missing anchor doesn't prevent users and crawlers from following a link, it makes it difficult to understand what the page you're linking to is about. Also, Google considers anchor text when indexing a page. So, a missing anchor represents a lost opportunity to optimize the performance of the linked-to page in search results. How to fix: Use anchor text for your links where it is necessary. The link text must give users and search engines at least a basic idea of what the target page is about. Also, use short but descriptive text. For more information, please see the "Use link wisely" section in Google's SEO Starter Guide https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/7451184?hl=en&ref_topic=9460495&authuser=0

Links with non-descriptive anchor text

i About this issue: This issue is triggered if a non-descriptive anchor text is used for a link (either internal or external). An anchor is considered to be non-descriptive if it doesn't give any idea of what the linked-to page is about, for example, "click here", "right here", etc. This type of anchor provides little value to users and search engines as it doesn't provide any information about the target page. Also, such anchors will offer little in terms of the target page's ability to be indexed by search engines, and as a result, rank for relevant search requests. For more information on the criteria used to trigger this check, refer to kb article title. How to fix: To let users and search engines understand the meaning of the linked-to page, use a succinct anchor text that describes the page's content. For best practices on how to optimize your anchor text, refer to the "Write good link text" section in Google's Search Engine Optimization (SEO) Starter Guide https://support.google.com/webmasters/answer/7451184?hl=en&ref_topic=9460495&authuser=0.

Nofollow attributes in outgoing external links

- 📌 About this issue: A nofollow attribute is an element in an  tag that tells crawlers not to follow the link. "Nofollow" links don't pass any link juice or anchor texts to referred webpages. The unintentional use of nofollow attributes may have a negative impact on the crawling process and your rankings. How to fix: Make sure you haven't used nofollow attributes by mistake. Remove them from  tags, if needed.

No HSTS support

i About this issue: HTTP Strict Transport Security (HSTS) informs web browsers that they can communicate with servers only through HTTPS connections. So, to ensure that you don't serve unsecured content to your audience, we recommend that you implement HSTS support. How to fix: Use a server that supports HSTS.
